Turning Housing Plans Into Homes: We align property owners, developers, investors, and community stakeholders to unlock more housing.

From Plans to Homes

Many communities have strong housing plans but face challenges turning that vision into policy reform and actual housing construction to meet their goals.

re:Main Communities helps bridge that gap, pinpointing priority sites, engaging property owners, developers, and mission-aligned investors, and building durable public support to move reforms from recommendation to reality.

The Program

A turnkey digital & advisory platform that bridges policy and practice offering the following;

- Community Portal – A customized online hub that highlights your community’s housing reform efforts while engaging key partners, showcasing your community as a ‘Housing Leader:’
 - Property owners exploring future potential of their parcels
 - Local builders seeking development opportunities
 - Mission-aligned investors ready to support projects, and more
- Stakeholder Engagement & Messaging: Translate housing production plans and policy recommendations into clear, compelling messages that build public trust, engage residents, and grow coalitions to champion necessary housing reforms & support future development.
- Targeted Outreach: Direct engagement with property owners, developers and mission aligned investors interested in moving your community’s stated housing goals to reality.
- Property Development Assistance Program*: Helping property owners unlock new housing opportunities by connecting them with experts, developers, training, and funding partners to bring dormant sites to life. (Additional service offered in partnership with strategic partners*)

How This Benefits Your Municipality

- Build and sustain pro-housing coalitions to support staff through challenging policy reform processes.
- Accelerate housing delivery to match stated municipal goals.
- Streamline investment by connecting mission-aligned capital with local opportunities, ensuring funding & developers are ready when policy reforms are enacted & opportunities arise.
- Demonstrate results with clear metrics showing progress toward local & state/provincial housing goals.
